Twitch Streamer - Game Info

4 year and up, Game for 2 players or more

Please, for the love of god, do not try to eat the playing cards or the cardboard box, you might choke and f**king die. But if you feel inclined to do it anyway, please don't say I didn't warn you, and sue me.

With this disclaimer out of the way, this cards may be used to play games, including but not limited to

Quartets:

After thoroughly mixing the deck, cards are distributed evenly to the players. Now each player looks at its cards - in case they already have one or more Quartets (i.e. have all cards 1-4 of the same category), they can immediately put them on display in front of themselves. The game is played clock-wise. The player, left of the dealer, begins. They now ask any of the other players, for a specific card, they are missing. Should the player have the card, asked for, they must give the card to the asking player and the asking player can continue to ask for cards. Should the player not have the desired card, the asking player's turn is over, and the asked player may continue to ask the others for cards they are missing. In the end, the player with most complete Quartets wins.

Ruff (trump) a.k.a. bigger number, better person:

After thoroughly mixing the deck, cards are distributed evenly to the players. The players hold the cards one after another as a stack, so they, themselves, only see the top card of the stack at any given time. One player starts to read the title of the card, as well as the category and one value of their choice. The other players compare this value, with the same value on their own top card - the biggest value, wins. The winner gets the played cards of the other players and starts the next round. For equal values, the category coming alphabetically after the other wins. If the category is equal as well, the higher number in the corner wins. The Winner of the game is the player with the most cards in the end.
